The Pastor's Corner

February 12, 2023

Dear Parishioners and Friends,

'Tis the season to be ... sniffly? ... achy? ... sleepy? Whatever word best describes my current situation, it isn't "jolly." As I write my weekly message, I am feeling the effects of another cold, probably brought on by the sub-freezing temperatures we experienced last weekend. I have tested twice for Covid, and the results have been negative. However, the battery in my car died last Saturday, and after getting a jump courtesy of AAA, I went immediately to get a new battery. I might have made the mistake of standing outside with the man from AutoZone who very kindly installed it for me as the temperature hovered around 6 degrees.

Needless to say, I feel very frustrated because I have appointments and other engagements on my calendar which I need to postpone. In the era of Covid, we can no longer take a simple cough or scratchy throat for granted. Is the common cold still just a common cold? As things seem to stand now, with the proper immunizations, even if one tests positive, most of the time Covid is not nearly as arduous as it was at the start of the pandemic. But I'm not taking any chances, and I sympathize with those who continue to struggle with it in one way or another.

Jesus' Sermon on the Mount, which unfolds over three entire chapters (5-7) of Matthew's Gospel, is a bundle of teachings that left his listeners astonished (if not exhausted)! At the end of Chapter 7, Matthew tells us that "when Jesus finished these sayings, the crowds were astonished at this teaching, for he was teaching them as one who had authority, and not as their scribes." Unfortunately, we won't make it out of Chapter 5 because the Lent-Easter season will interrupt the flow of the Gospel. When we return to Ordinary Time in June, we will have jumped ahead to Chapter 9. Nevertheless, there are some very challenging teachings in the Sermon on the Mount, and today's Gospel passage addresses several areas of human life that many people have difficulty with, especially in the area of relationships.

Jesus sets the bar much higher for his disciples (which include you and me). The word raqa generally is thought to be of Hebrew origin coming from a root that means "empty." In this context, the word used as an insult would indicate that someone is empty-headed or foolish. The second insult, moros, is of Greek origin and also means "foolish." Neither of these terms is a compliment, certainly; I can think of a few modern-day equivalents, but I will leave those to your own imagination! However, Jesus wishes to stress that these are serious offenses against the dignity of a person, and the consequences for using such epithets against someone would be very severe.

The point here is that how we speak to, or about, one another can be very hurtful. I am reminded of an episode from my go-to theological resource, Everybody Loves Raymond, titled "Be Nice." Both Ray and his wife Debra decide to try to be nice to each other after realizing that they had gotten too free with the name-calling (e.g., Debra calling Ray "idiot" or Ray's lack of appreciation for Debra's cooking and other efforts). Let's just say that both Ray and Debra found it very hard to remain nice to each other for very long.

I have said this several times, that in today's secular society, insults and other forms of slander have become the norm, especially on the internet. Public speech has grown grossly insulting towards others, as our political arena has demonstrated. Today's Gospel teaching is a lesson for all of us, as we deal with disagreements and interpersonal conflict. I may be over-simplifying things, but let's just try to "be nice" to each other instead of flinging insults and other volatile words.

I hope you have been able to cope with the parking lot issues, especially as we have transitioned to the new entry and exit gates. Also, the huge traffic jams around the neighborhood on weekends have not helped! Hopefully, in another few weeks, things will quiet down somewhat as the college basketball season comes to a close. Thank you for your patience and perseverance throughout all the confusion. Please remember to request a key card if you are an active and registered parishioner; it will make life much simpler!

One final note: as our tabernacle saga continues, I've decided to place a small amount of consecrated hosts in the main tabernacle so that there will be a Eucharistic presence in the church. We will continue to use the smaller tabernacle in the chapel as a receptacle for the ciboria used during the weekend Masses. It isn't a perfect solution, but it will be less stressful for our Eucharistic ministers because the lock on the large tabernacle has been so temperamental lately.

Blessings on your week ahead!

Lenten Programs 2023

A Path of Conversion: The Comfort and Challenge of the Psalms

Thursdays, February 23, March 2, 9, 16, 23 & 30; 10:30 to 11:30 AM.

Many psalms rely on remembering the tender care God showed the chosen people by leading them, protecting them, nurturing them during their wilderness from the slavery in Egypt to freedom in the promised land. Reflecting on the psalms can assist us in our Lenten journey of conversion as we struggle to free our wills from selfish satisfaction and conform them to God's will which offers us true freedom. Widening the Arms of the Cross: Rethinking Christ's Atoning Sacrifice

Thursdays, March 2, 9, 16, 23 from 7:00 to 8:00 PM.

Is our cross too small? The central symbol of our Christian faith is often reduced: physically, to a trinket worn around the neck; spiritually, to an object of private devotion; and theologically, to the appeasement of an angry god demanding satisfaction for sin. This four-week Lenten series will seek to broaden and deepen our perspective on and appreciation for the crucifixion of Jesus and what it means for our life of faith and for the life of our world. Clare Gallery 20th Anniversary Year A Suspension of Perception

“A Suspension of Perception” engages us with the reality of immigration at our southern border and with the challenges faced by new arrivals. Two organizations have been assisting adults and children by providing backpacks with personal care items and clothing to meet their immediate needs: The Migration Center and Grannies Respond. Representatives from both organizations will be here on March 5 to speak with our Religious Education students along with artist Christine Breslin. And, we’d like to make a donation of filled backpacks to help them help others in great need.

Backpack Collection: February 18/19 and 25/26 at all Masses.

Items needed are:

Toiletries, diapers, wipes, small developmental toys/book, crayons, coloring books, school type supplies, cards or other simple games, and long sleeve tee shirts/sweatshirts/hoodies and Target gift cards

The Migrant Center is a ministry of the Franciscan community in NYC that has been serving the 22,000 migrants who have arrived over the past several months. The generous spirit of our SPSA community reaches locally as well as far and wide! How blessed we are to be able to make a difference in others’ lives!

Have a Franciscan Heart, Help Us Help the People in Syria and Turkey

The Franciscan Relief Fund, which is run by The Holy Name Province, has set up a way to help the people of Syria and Turkey.

Our sisters and brothers in Turkey and Syria are faced with unfathomable suffering. Their homes and all of their belongings have been destroyed in the catastrophic earthquake. And the plight of these now-homeless tens of thousands of children, women and men is a humanitarian crisis. They are crowding into makeshift shelters – tents, malls, stadiums. Parents are desperate to keep their children warm and fed.

Just in a small neighborhood in Aleppo, the city in Syria about 30 miles from the Turkish border, Franciscan Friars whose friary was, thankfully, unscathed by the earthquake, are helping 4,000 people a day displaced from their home. But supplies and resources are scarce. There are tens of thousands more like them. They need our help. The Franciscan Friars on the ground need us to help them so they can help the frightened, cold and hungry people who lost everything in the earthquake.

The Franciscan Friars who minister in the region are not abandoning the people in their greatest time of need. They are doing what they can with the scarce resources they have to help the thousands who are turning to them for assistance. Through the Franciscan Relief Fund, we will send the donations collected to the Franciscan Friars on the front lines of this humanitarian crisis so that they are able to help thousands of children, women and men who desperately need food, warm clothing and medicine. Please, have a Franciscan Heart and give generously and with gratitude to the Franciscan Relief Fund.

The Friars need your generous support, as you have shown in the past. Every dollar that you donate to the Franciscan Relief Fund will be used 100% for the purchase of food, bottled water, blankets, warm clothing, medicine and medical supplies, toiletries, and anything else these people so desperately need. Your generosity will let the survivors caught in this path of unimaginable destruction know that they are not alone.

The Franciscan Relief Fund will send the monetary donations every two weeks to the Order of Friars Minor overseas, where Franciscan Friars will purchase and ship the food, clothing and medicine to Turkey and Syria to help thousands of people. Please be as generous as your means allow. CLICK Here to make a donation.
